

Now read Source 3, 'Stranded on Vanuatu', which is an extract from a non-fiction book.

3 Explain some of the thoughts and feelings the writer has whilst he is on the island.

[8 marks]

The writer ~~feels~~ may feel a little agitated to start with. This is due to the fact that it was "unbearably hot and sticky." The writer then gives us a vivid thought on how hot it actually was, "you could steam broccoli in here".

references to support.

Some explanation

Secondly, after the sun went down, the writer may have felt a little frightened. This is explained by "Ghoulishly, black-of-your-closet black." Even though there was some light, it wasn't enough to help him see, "but it's not enough to make the slightest dent on the monolithic emptiness of the world beyond this one", the writer explained.

long quotation

~~in addition~~ In addition to this,

the writer may also ~~feel~~ felt scared! This is due to the fact that, "you don't touch land again for another for thousand miles". He was "totally creeped out".

clear
explanatory

relevant reference

The thoughts of the writers normal life kept flowing back to him, "leafy suburbs, movie theaters, starbucks". He felt so far away from all that, almost like, he was "in a different galaxy".

Begin to interpret

He then went on to explain a childhood memory, from this he felt like it was happening again now, that "nobody knows I'm here, nobody cares, and nobody's coming back for me". He is scared of what will happen if everyone forgot him.

explains

links back to childhood.

The writer felt as if he was

Turn over ▶ on his own for the rest of his life, scared and helpless.

Band 3.

Clear understanding of thoughts & feelings.
Clearly explain and begin to interpret
Use ~~of~~ ~~of~~ relevant quotations.

5

8

